

Interested in Future Technologies? Register for Future Forces Conference & Exhibition

Apr 21, 2018

This post is also available in: עברית (Hebrew)

Where Will You Be on May 9, 2018? Join us and learn from the leading defense industries and the best experts about the latest innovations for the future security forces.

To Future Forces Conference and Exhibition

iHLS has been organizing the "Future Forces Conference and Exhibition" for the sixth year.

This unique event offers an exceptional meeting opportunity for all the ecosystem in this field – defense industries, IDF representatives, police, security forces and first responders, entrepreneurs and startups, academic researchers, investors, and more.

Future forces will operate in completely different arenas and conditions from the ones we know today Israel has been at the forefront of the world development of advanced technologies for future forces. At the exhibition adjacent to the conference you will be able to see the new technologies at their best.

The keynote address will be given by Lockheed Martin's Vice President, National Security Government Affairs. He will be followed by leading experts from the IDF, MAFAT (Israel R&D Agency), IAI, IMI, APG Aerosystems, and researchers from the Technion, Ben Gurion University, and more.

The conference will be held on May 9, 2018, at the Lago Conference Center, Rishon LeZion.